

REMARKS

Applicants hereby submit amendments to the specification. The Title and Abstract are amended to better describe the claimed subject matter of the present application. An amended Summary of the Invention is submitted to more closely reflect the full scope of the claimed invention. In particular, the summary of the invention draws attention to the fact that the oscillating signal employed to provide charge to the antenna may be a symmetric signal, as disclosed in connection with FIGS. 8 & 9A, or an asymmetric signal, as disclosed in connection with FIGS. 10A & 10B. Finally, portions of the Detailed Description are amended to more completely describe the figures.

No new matter has been added to any of the amended portions of the specification.

Respectfully submitted,

FULBRIGHT & JAWORSKI L.L.P.
